Monterey County District Attorney Dean D. Flippo announced today that after a two-day jury trial, Reese Anthony Logan, age 32, Salinas resident, was found guilty of violating a domestic violence protective order. Judge Thomas W. Wills presided.

On April 3, 2018, Logan's mother called 911 to report that her son was high on methamphetamine and violating a criminal protective order. The order, resulting from a prior criminal conviction, allowed Logan to have peaceful contact with his mother. His mother reported that Logan was throwing and knocking over items inside her home in Prunedale.

Monterey County Sheriff's Deputies responded to find personal belongings strewn about the driveway of the home. At the request of Logan's mother, deputies entered the home, found it in complete disorder, and then found Logan in one of the back rooms. Logan was still exhibiting signs of being under the influence of methamphetamine when arrested.

Judge Wills sentenced Logan to 3 years probation and 120 days in county jail.
